

Cannabis Research Coalition (CRC) Membership Terms Agreement

1. Introduction

Welcome to the Cannabis Research Coalition (CRC). Our mission is to unite the cannabis industry's stakeholders—individuals and businesses alike—to fund academic research that tackles the most pressing challenges facing our industry. By leveraging a cooperative research model, CRC members gain access to cutting-edge, science-based findings, sharing the costs and benefits of research that can propel our industry forward.

2. Membership Eligibility and Dues

2.1 Eligibility

Membership is open to any individual or entity operating within or associated with the cannabis industry who is committed to advancing research and shares the vision of the CRC.

2.2 Dues

Membership dues are billed on an annual basis. The amount of these dues will be communicated to you upon application and is subject to change with prior notice to members. Payment of dues is required to maintain membership status and access to CRC benefits.

3. Membership Terms

3.1 Term

Membership is valid for one year from the date of dues payment and must be renewed annually.

Monthly payment terms without interest can be made upon request and with a 1 time setup fee of $150

3.2 No Refunds

All sales are final. CRC does not offer refunds for membership dues under any circumstances.

4. Member Benefits

As a member of CRC, you will have access to a variety of benefits, including but not limited to:

- Participation in cooperative research projects.
- Access to research findings and reports.
- Opportunities for networking with other industry stakeholders.
- Invitations to CRC events, workshops, and seminars.

The specific benefits available may vary and are subject to change. CRC reserves the right to modify the benefits offered to members at any time.

5. Use of Membership

Membership in CRC is intended for the direct benefit of the registered member only. Sharing of membership benefits (e.g., access to research, event invitations) with non-members is strictly prohibited unless explicitly authorized by CRC.

6. Intellectual Property

All research findings, reports, and related materials produced through CRC-funded projects are the property of the CRC. Members may use these materials for personal and business purposes but may not reproduce or distribute them without explicit permission from CRC.

7. Termination of Membership

Membership may be terminated by the member at any time with written notice to CRC. However, remember that all sales are final, and no refunds for unused portions of membership dues will be provided. CRC also reserves the right to terminate membership for any reason, including but not limited to breach of these terms.

8. Amendments to Terms

CRC reserves the right to amend these membership terms at any time. Members will be notified of any changes and continued membership will constitute acceptance of the new terms.

9. Agreement to Terms

By paying the membership dues, you agree to be bound by these membership terms and conditions, as may be amended from time to time. This agreement represents the entire understanding between you and the CRC regarding your membership.
